

HUSBAND STABS WIFE TO DEATH AT DANCE

Casey Man Said to Have Become
Enraged When He Found Her
Dancing With His Enemy

Hustonsville, Dec. 31.
At a dance at the home of a Mr. Hail, Mildred Pemberton stabbed her wife to death with a pocket knife, while she was dancing with J. C. Edwards, a man whom it is said Pemberton did not like. James Eads is said to have also been severely cut and stabbed by Pemberton while interfering in the struggle between Pemberton, his wife and Edwards. Edwards, it is said, received four very dangerous wounds from Pemberton's knife may yet prove fatal. Eads is said to have been cut across the arms and stabbed in the abdomen. After realizing what he had done Pemberton is said to have tried to use his knife on himself and to have attempted to kill himself but failed and fell down by the side of his wife exhausted and became unconscious. When he was aroused he is said to have remembered nothing of the deed. He is said to be in a critical condition. All of the parties live on Reynolds' Creek in Casey county. Pemberton was arrested and placed in jail in Liberty. Mrs. Pemberton is alleged to have gone to the dance against her husband's wishes but promised if he would stay with the children she would not remain long. At 12 o'clock Pemberton went after her and upon opening the door found her dancing with Edwards. He is said to have become so enraged at the sight that he pulled his knife and started upon his awful deed.

Mrs. Dave Daugherty is No More
Mrs. David Daugherty, aged 60 years, died at their home near McKinney on Thursday, December 24, after a lingering illness. She was the wife of David Daugherty, a well known farmer, and was a faithful member of the New's Creek Methodist church. She is survived by her husband and several grown children who mourn the loss of a good wife and loving mother. Funeral services were conducted on Christmas day by J. C. McClary, burial being in the Campbell burying ground.

Spoonamore—Dudderar
Their host of friends were given quite a surprise Thursday when J. Fox Dudderar, and Mrs. Siba Spoonamore, of Franklin, Ind., were united in marriage at the home of Mr. John Spoonamore, near Hedgeville, where she was visiting. Rev. D. M. Walker said the words which made the popular pair one, and after that they left for Indianapolis for a short wedding trip after which they will come to Stanford to make their home. Mr. Dudderar is one of the best known and popular engineers on this division of the L. & N. and is also an extensive farmer and stock raiser. His bride is a very attractive young widow, a former Lincoln county girl who has made her home in Indiana for some time. A host of friends extend heartiest congratulations and good wishes.

Back—Stephenson

Hustonsville, Dec. 31.
Stoner J. Stephenson and the beautiful daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Back—Miss Lena—were quietly married at the Christian church parsonage by Rev. Baugh at high noon on December 23d. They at once motored to Moreland and took a train for Lexington to visit relatives there and in Bourbon county for a few days. They returned on Sunday and went to the beautiful home of the bride's parents where a delightful dinner was prepared for them and a number of relatives of both families. Both of these young people are very popular and attractive and a host of friends extend congratulations and good wishes.

Hammonds' Tobacco Barn Burns

A large tobacco barn on the farm of T. B. Hammonds, about four miles from Stanford on the Danville pike was completely destroyed by fire about five o'clock Thursday morning. The origin of the blaze is unknown. Mr. Hammonds had 27 acres of tobacco in the barn that he was preparing to take to the Danville market this week. A big lot of farming machinery, tools etc. was also lost. The tobacco was insured for $2,700 and the barn itself is said to have been worth about $2,500. He had $1,500 insurance in the barn.

UNCLE SAM CATCHES TWO LOCAL BOOTLEGGERS

Deputy Collector Saufley Working
Hard To Break Up Business
In His District

Stanford lost two of her most distinguished bootleggers for a season this week, when Deputy U. S. Marshal Charles Winfrey, of Somerset, and Deputy Collector Rowan Saufley, of this city, arrested Will Lee and Jeff Bryant, both colored. Marshal Winfrey took them to Danville and they will be tried in the federal court on charges of selling whisky without government license. Warrants for their arrest were sworn out by Deputy Collector Saufley, who is doing everything within his power to break up bootlegging in his district. He has been strongly commended on all sides for his good work. A gallon and a half of whisky were found in Lee's room in Macksville, when he was arrested; he claimed that it belonged to his sister, Bryant attempted to make a getaway when the officers went to his house, but they caught him with little trouble.

A GOOD MOTHER GONE

Mrs. P. G. Warner Dies Tuesday
Morning After Lengthy Illness

"Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord," and thrice blessed is she who for seventy years lived the life and kept the faith.
Mrs. Susan E. Warner, wife of Mr. P. G. Warner, died at the home on Logan avenue at an early hour Tuesday morning, after an illness of a lengthy duration. Her trouble began with paralysis, and from the start little hope was had for her recovery. The burial occurred in the Lancaster Cemetery at 12:30 Wednesday, brief services being held at the home by Revs. M. D. Early and D. M. Walker, beginning at 10:30. At this service many of the friends and neighbors gathered and looked for the last time on the face of the good wife and mother, whose spirit had taken its flight to join the hosts on the other shore. The remarks by Rev. Early were most appropriate and must have been a balm to the bleeding hearts, while Rev. Walker's prayer was both beautiful and sympathetic.

Besides the aged husband, Mrs. Warner left three children, Mrs. W. B. O'Bannon, W. K. Warner and Robert L. Warner, the latter residing in California. Nine children blessed the union but six had joined the silent majority.

Mrs. Warner, whose maiden name was Jones, was married to the spendid old gentleman, who is now bowed with grief, fifty-five years ago and the union was a most happy one. She was only fifteen years old and he thirty, but the disparity of ages detracted not the least from their congeniality and they trod life's path together, loving each other more as the years accumulated. Theirs was a beautiful married life and one well worthy of emulation. When only thirteen years of age, Mrs. Warner joined the Baptist church and for nearly three score years lived a beautiful Christian life.

Great sympathy is felt for the husband, who is past eighty-five, and who must finish his journey alone. May a merciful God give him strength to bear his burden of grief, and comfort him with rod and staff on his lonely way. The children also share the sympathy of the community in the loss of a mother who was a mother in all the good word means.

Double Wedding at Moreland

A double wedding was solemnized at Moreland on Dec. 23 at the home of Rev. J. Y. Montgomery of the Christian church. The parties were E. B. Dunn, son of L. C. Dunn, of Hustonsville and Miss Della Hoagland, of Chillicothe, Ohio and Owen Dameron, of Mr. Salem and Miss Rose Dunn of Hustonsville, who is a daughter of L. C. Dunn. Mr. and Mrs. Dameron will make their home with his parents and Mr. and Mrs. Dunn, after returning from a visit at Chillicothe, O., will make their home here.

Bank Makes a Fine Showing

The First National Bank of Stanford on the 26th declared its usual semi-annual dividend of three per cent payable on demand, carried $500 to the surplus fund and the balance of the earnings of about $1,100 to undivided profits. The bank has had an unusually good six months' business.

CATTLE KILLED IN WRECK

James Cloyd's Shipment of Fat
Beefes Destroyed

James Cloyd, a well known West End farmer, shipped a car load of extra cattle to the Cincinnati market several days ago. On their arrival at the Queen City it was found that the market would not justify him to sell there so the beefes were shipped on to Jersey City under consignment of Greene, Embury & Co. En route to the east the car was wrecked and about a half of the cattle were killed outright and the others badly damaged. The Cincinnati livestock firm at once wired Mr. Cloyd at Hustonsville asking him to furnish affidavit as to the weight and value of the steers when started to market, which Mr. Cloyd furnished at once. He had an offer of seven and a half cents a pound for them by a Hustonsville buyer before he decided to ship them.

HUSTONVILLE

Lair's dogs were called to Burnside last week and made a successful trail. About a year ago the dogs went there to catch the one who had broken in a store and they made broken in a store and they made to the same house, but they did not find any of the stolen goods as they did the first time. Close watch is being kept on the man of this house by the officers.

R. A. Lipps and wife of Danville, were over to the reunion of the Ware family last week, when a great time was had. It was the first time in many years that all the brothers and sisters were all together.

Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Rogers, of Louisville, are here with Mrs. Rogers' parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Good.

Mr. and Mrs. Clay Godbey, of Liberty, have been on a visit to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ephraim Godbey on the Danville.

J. H. Reed has been nursing a very painful pet on his thumb, for several days.

Lair's dogs were called to Junction City recently to make a trail from the meat house of Rev. J. B. Jones, which had been entered and all of his meat carried away. A trail was found and the dogs followed it a short distance and the trail was lost by the robbers getting in a vehicle. Rev. Jones has had his meat stolen this winter.

Dave Skinner, of Stonega, Va., is at home for Christmas with his family.

B. W. Leigh has installed a new gasoline tank in front of his store for the benefit and convenience of the automobiles and any one else who need it.

George Mullins who lives on B. Gover's farm in this section, had the misfortune to get his house and all the contents destroyed by fire. They only saved the clothes that they had on and a few that happened to be in wash. The fire was caused by setting fire to a window curtain.

J. L. Conway, of Pittsburg, is here for the holidays with his son, Reid, at James Reid's on the Bradfordsville pike.

The local Masonic lodge has lost three members by death in the past few months: Dr. J. C. Barker, John T. Land and Wallace Steele, all of whom were buried in the cemetery here. J. F. Alstott, of Power's Store, Casey county was also buried here.

Misses Della and Catherine Combust are the guests of their sister, Mrs. S. P. Stephenson two miles out on the Middleburg pike.

Mrs. James DeFaulch, of Danville, sister of Mrs. J. W. Powell of Hustonsville died Tuesday, December 21 at the residence of J. W. Powell west of here on the Bradfordsville pike, after a long illness of a complication of troubles. She was buried in Bellevue cemetery, Danville, the following day. The remains were accompanied from here by her husband and two sons, Jas. W. Powell and wife and a few more dear friends of this locality. The deceased was about 60 years of age and had borne her illness with the greatest of patience and Christian fortitude.

Mrs. J. C. Barker has rented her home property to Dr. Weddle, of Somerset, who will move here at an early date to practice his profession. Mrs. Barker has rented rooms in the Ark building and will make her home there until the close of school in the spring.

A colored boy held ticket 539 and drew the free turkey given by Burton & Myers, the proprietors of the picture show at the opera house.

Little Joe Ellis reports having had a narrow escape from being burned to death last week while making a narrow escape from a half mile west of here. The kettle took fire on the inside where the lard was being cooked and Joe says he was scared clean out of his wits for a few minutes.

Sidney Adams, of Cleveland, Ohio was over from Stanford last week to see his brothers and sisters here and spent a couple of days with his many friends at his old home.

The entertainment given by the children of the graded school on the night of the 23d was a grand affair and all performed their parts exceedingly well. Parents turned out in goodly numbers to see what progress their little ones are making and went home well pleased. Much credit is given to Prof. Robinson and the splendid faculty of teachers.

George B. Straitor left on the 24th for his home in Lexington to spend Christmas.

Paul Jessie, a mile out on the Stanford pike, was painfully hurt a few days ago while driving a team for James Cloyd. He was on a wagonload of feed troughs and one of them began to shift over and he overbalanced him and threw him to the wheel with one leg caught which he could not extract. The mules became frightened and tried to run away but he held on to them and saved himself from being crushed to death. He was very lucky to escape with only one leg badly hurt and is compelled to use crutches for a while.

Mrs. Helen Huffman sent her niece Mrs. Nellie Gibbs at Washington, D. C. a fine Kentucky black cake for Christmas by parcel post last week.

Miss Lizzie Stephenson is at home from Lexington to spend the holidays with her parents and other loved ones.

Lots of water pipes burst during the extreme cold weather.

Barton's Carpenter gave the young people a very enjoyable roller skating at the opera house on the night of the 23d. A number received painful bruises but never let up trying to learn.

Mrs. J. P. Goode baked eight large black cakes and one nut cake during Christmas and sent them to her children one going as far as Waco, Texas, to Mrs. W. D. Dollins.

Wm. Wilcher, of Stanford, was up Saturday to see his girl and took in the entertainment.

Wade Kennedy has been visiting his aunt, Miss Black Givens here. He has been away from Kentucky for 13 years, in the northwestern states. He had to travel several miles overland to reach the railroad when he started home and the weather being severely cold, he had one of his ears badly frostbitten, which has given him considerable trouble and pain during the past few days.

Homer Combust, of State University, is here this week on a visit to sister Mrs. S. P. Stephenson.

EASTERN STAR BANQUET

Delightful Affair Given By West End Lodge Last Week

Hustonsville, Dec. 31.
The members of the Eastern Star gave a delightful banquet Thursday evening of last week at their room in the Masonic hall which was well attended, most of the members being present. The room was attractively decorated for the occasion. After formal business of the members repaired down stairs at seven o'clock where they were greeted by music from Moreland's young orchestra. A menu of oyster soup, chicken and turkey, lettuce dressing, ham, pickles, jellies, beaten biscuits, coffee, ice cream and cake and other things to eat. The table literally groaned under the feast of good things. A number of interesting talks were made afterward which were enjoyed by all. The music furnished by the talented young orchestra was especially complimented on all sides.

Mr. C. K. McClure brought them over in his hack. Those who composed the orchestra and their instruments, were: Miss Virginia Dinwiddie, viola; Miss Kathryn McClure, violin; Miss Catherine Coffey, violin; Earl Bell, bass violin; James Pipes, cello. The evening was enjoyed greatly by all present and it was with regret that they saw this most pleasant entertainment come to a close.

NOBLE WEST END WOMAN

Passes Away at Hustonsville After Long Invalidism

With the closing of the year came the end of a beautiful life. Mrs. Emma Adams Newbern, wife of David J. Newbern, was born, grew to womanhood, and married in Bolivar, Tennessee. About thirty years ago she with her family came to Hustonsville where she has since made her home.

Always frail in body, her undaunted spirit and courage and energy have been an inspiration to her family and friends. Three years ago her illness reached the stage where she became a constant sufferer. She was surrounded by every care that loving hearts and tender hands can give, but no earthly power could lessen her pain, and it was a blessed release to her when at last, her loved one realized the "He giveth His beloved, sleep."

The sympathy of their friends goes out to the sorrowing family, whose happy cheerful home is darkened by the loss of her, the soul of that home. "The heart of her husband trusted in her, and her children arise up and call her blessed."

Mrs. Newbern is survived by her husband, four daughters, Mrs. McKewen, of Louisville, Miss Georgia Newbern, of Knoxville, Misses Prill and Beecher Newbern, of Hustonsville, two sons, T. D. and C. R. Newbern, of Knoxville; her mother, Mrs. Martha Adams, of Stanford, two sisters, Mrs. T. W. Pennington, of Harrodsburg and six brothers, R. N. and Greenberry Adams, of Texas, J. B. Adams, of Danville, J. S. Adams, of Cleveland, O., and A. J. and C. W. Adams of Hustonsville.

On Christmas eve at Louisville, Miss Lena Eliza Palhier, one of the most popular teachers of the Stanford Graded School, was married to Carl Hughes Campbell formerly of Somerset and a son of the late F. J. Campbell one of the founders of the Interior Journal, and during his day one of the best known newspapermen in Kentucky. Miss Palmer has taught in the local school for several years, and has endeared herself to all. She is a splendid teacher, a woman of engaging personality and will make a splendid helpmate for the man of her choice. She is the daughter of Mrs. Margaret Anna Prewitt, and was reared near Kirksville. After the first of January, the newly wedded pair will come to Stanford to make their home.

Rev. Will Hopper Called to Louisville
Rev. William Hopper, who has been pastor of the Presbyterian churches at Burnside and Pisgah for the past several years, has accepted a call to the Woodland avenue church in Louisville, and will soon move there to make his home.

This makes two Stanford men in Presbyterian pastorates in Louisville, the other being Rev. Alfred A. Higgins. Mr. Hopper has done a fine work with his mountain charges, and it was, with regret that he was given up.

Miss Jessie Cook Weds in Tennessee
The following from a Nashville paper will be of much interest here as the bride left Stanford a few days ago after a visit to her sister, Mrs. George B. Cooper; she was born and reared in the West End of this county and has a host of friends in Kentucky who will wish her every happiness.

Tuesday morning in Chattanooga occurred a marriage which will be of interest to many friends of the bridal couple in Nashville—that of Miss Jessie Dean Cook and Mr. Ed T. Thurman of this city. The bride after a visit in Kentucky, left for Chattanooga, where she has been a guest at the home of her brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. James Cook, who attended her at the wedding. Rev. Ernest Jackson of the Christian church of that city was the officiating minister. Mr. and Mrs. Thurman left immediately for this city, where they will be located at the groom's home in East Nashville. Both have a large circle of friends who will receive announcement of their marriage with surprise and interest. Mrs. Thurman is the sister of Dr. Mose Cook of this city and enjoys an unusual popularity.

Mozart Club Entertains
One of the most delightful social events of the holidays was given by the Mozart Club at the home of Mrs. W. G. Withers on Tuesday evening last. The officers of the club and their escorts received the guests. They were Miss Matsy Grimes, president and Mr. Bryan Perkins, Miss Jean Paxton vice president and Mr. Lewis Proctor, Miss Frances Embry secretary and treasurer, and Mr. John Cash. Delightful refreshments were served. The decorations were of holly and mistletoe to carry out the red and green color scheme. Misses Josephine Carpenter, Sallie Purdette, Marion Grimes and Sallie M. Craig entertained. Most of the young people in and about town were present and will long remember the evening with pleasure.

HUSTONVILLE
Dr. James Riffe and family, of Erlanger, are here to spend the holidays with his parents and other relatives.

Logan McCormack, of the McCormack's church section, Ray Powell and Elmer Anderson, of Stanford, were at the skating rink Saturday night.

RECORD BREAKING AVERAGES AT PEOPLE'S WAREHOUSE

All Records in the State of Kentucky For The Present Season Were Broken Wednesday at People's Warehouse in Danville

J. J. Allen, of Hustonsville, Gets An Average of $19 Per Hundred For Entire Crop. One Basket Brings 26 Cents a Pound

Robert Naylor of Garrard County Gets the Big Average of $18.50 For His Crop—Bidding Spirited, Prices High and Not a Single Basket is Rejected—People's House Sells
Over 200,000 Pounds in Two Days

Old time high prices and big averages were realized at the People's Tobacco Warehouse on Perryville street in Danville Wednesday morning. J. J. Allen, of Hustonsville, Lincoln county, got 6 cents a pound for one basket and made the record-breaking average of 19 cents a pound for his entire crop. Robert Naylor, of Garrard county, received an average of $18.50 per hundred for his crop. It is needless to say that with the big jump in prices enthusiasm was unbounded and the growers left town with their pockets full of money, boosting the marvelous success of the People's House.

A striking evidence of the success at the People's house Wednesday morning is exemplified in the fact that not a single basket was rejected of the entire offerings. During the two days this week the People's house has sold practically a quarter of a million pounds of tobacco at most highly satisfactory prices. The outlook is most encouraging and with the prevailing high prices it is apparent that much tobacco will be brought to Danville from foreign territory. Among the many high averages received, the following are given in detail:

J. J. Allen, of Lincoln county, sold the following:
85 pounds, per pound 26c
50 pounds, per pound 20c
35 pounds, per pound 14c
50 pounds, per pound 17 1/2c
80 pounds, per pound 22 1/2c
60 pounds, per pound 11c
10 pounds, per pound 2c
Average 19 Cents.
Robert Naylor, of Garrard county, sold the following:
70 pounds, per pound 16 1/2c
325 pounds, per pound 24c
245 pounds, per pound 18 3/4c
260 pounds, per pound 24c

Wright and Farris, of Mercer county, sold the following:
200 pounds, per pound 14 1/2c
235 pounds, per pound 14 1-2c
500 pounds, per pound 13 3/4c
315 pounds, per pound 10 3/4c
195 pounds, per pound 14c
295 pounds, per pound 14c
20 pounds, per pound 13c
225 pounds, per pound 8 3/4c
120 pounds, per pound 13 3/4c
250 pounds, per pound 14 1-4c
55 pounds, per pound 13 3/4c
440 pounds, per pound 7 1-4c
Average 12 1-5 Cents.

McKeith and Murphy of Lincoln county, sold the following:
325 pounds, per pound 15 1-4c
170 pounds, per pound 15c
90 pounds, per pound 16 3/4c
160 pounds, per pound 13c
305 pounds, per pound 16c
265 pounds, per pound 15 3/4c
280 pounds, per pound 13 1/4c
145 pounds, per pound 8 1-2c
80 pounds, per pound 12 3/4c
120 pounds, per pound 7c
35 pounds, per pound 6 1-4c
260 pounds, per pound 7 3/4c
Average 14 Cents.

Bach Club Entertained
One of the most enjoyable events during the life of the Bach Club took place Monday evening, when the six remaining school members entertained at a six o'clock dinner. Covers were laid for twenty and a most delightful six course dinner was served. The table was very artistically decorated in holly, sent from the Dismal Swamps of Virginia, and beautifully hand painted place cards, garlands of mistletoe and holly were hung in graceful festoons about the wall, making a very attractive decoration. During the dinner small Christmas favors were passed, when upon opening, found themselves provided with a cap and a little paper affair, which some one soon discovered to be a fire cracker and then real Christmas celebrating took place for some minutes.

Miss Matsy Grimes, president of the Mozart Club, told fortunes. She gave each person a card upon which were written questions to be answered by the names of songs, books, characters in books and proverbial sayings. Some very startling revelations were made; every one was curious to know who would be the next bride in the Bach Club, but mystery is now solved but the Club has decided to keep the name of the fair one a secret for the present.

Miss Sallie Mills Craig, president of the Bach Club, and efficient toastmistress of the evening introduced Mr. Reinhart, ex-president, who spoke briefly, but well. Following Mr. James Cooper spoke of the many things of which we Kentuckians are always proud. Miss Early, Mr. L. S. O'Bannon and Mr. Joseph Hopper all spoke creditably. Miss Ballou in her usual cordial and charming manner, said just the right thing.

The evening in all ways was a pleasant one, and it will ever remain a happy memory to those who were present.

Cabell—Brooks
Miss Georgia Cabell and H. M. Brooks surprised their many friends by going to Jeffersonville, Wednesday during Christmas week and marrying. Rev. Weir officiating. The bride is the youngest daughter of Mrs. G. W. Cabell of this city, and is very accomplished and attractive young lady, while the groom is the son of Mr. Frank Brooks, of Crab Orchard. Mr. Brooks is holding a position as bridge foreman and has his headquarters at Lebanon Junction, where they will make their future home.
